

Situated in the town centre, a mere five-minute walk from the beach and main shopping area, Swakopmund Guesthouse is owned and run by the Borg family.

"Definitely something very different to what Swakopmund has to offer so far, " adds Leander. The Swakopmund Guesthouse is a bed-and-breakfast facility, offering more than usual by providing guests with a scrumptious breakfast buffet, catering for more upmarket traveller, and facilities ranging from laundry services to "anything else that guests might ask for". This includes a shuttle service and wheelchair-friendly accommodation.

All rooms come complete with minibar and television.

The Swakopmund Guesthouse is run with an eco-friendly approach, making use of solar energy. It is not your conventional type of guesthouse, that's for sure.
